Our National Game

Schools and Academy Meet—Both Keen and Erratic Playing—Heavy Hitting Featured

Norway H. S. 8; Gould's 3

Four hits, two errors and a pass gave Norway six runs and the game at the fair grounds, Saturday afternoon, with Gould Academy of Bethel the opposing team.

The game opened with each making a mark in the first round. Gould's tied in third, then registered one in the fifth for a lead. The joy was not long to linger for Norway put up a surprise attack, with the stick and a string of errors in the game which followed, let by six runs before the curtain fell on the slaughter of that inning. Both teams drew blanks during the remainder of the game.

Stephens H. S. 8; South Paris 1

South Paris High school went into a wreck at Rumford, Wednesday afternoon and accepted a whitewash by a lone run in the seventh. Chet Pratt was the only Paris boy to land safely on Monteith's pitching. He landed for two singles.

The Stephens Panthers picked up a windfall in the fifth when hits were bunched and field errors worked in their favor.

Ball Game to Settle Argument

Proceeds to be Given to Kiwanis Club

Main street is upset over the big time ball game to be played at the fair grounds Wednesday, May 18, at 5 p. m., daylight time.

This should settle an argument that has been red hot since snow commenced to leave. The wordy fight centers around the athletic ability talent along Main street.

The North side claims to be more active, stronger and with a greater charge of sporting blood. Exceptions are taken by the South siders and they in turn claim all the berries while discrediting the wonderful powers across the cement road.

A baseball duel will be fought and every man who can swing a bat is urged to rally around the banner on their respective side and do their stuff. Teams are being organized with Del Rich and Bob McCready, battery for the South; Paul Hosmer and Win Knight for the north. "Fat" Anderson and Lester Ashton have given bonds for their appearance as umpires. Plenty of extra pitchers will warm up for any emergency.

No admission will be charged, but a collection will be taken and the proceeds given to the Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club.

All who love a real hot baseball game will not pass this up, because many old time favorites are sure to perform. A rather loose game is anticipated. Patrons are urged to leave vegetables and mature eggs at home.

SPECIAL RED CROSS MEETING

A special meeting of the officers and executive board of the local Red Cross will be held at the Municipal Court Room, Monday evening, May 16, at 7:30 o'clock. It is an important meeting and every member is requested to be present.

The Veranda Club met with Mrs. Alice Blaquiere, Thursday evening, May 5, with a good attendance. After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed with music and singing. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Martha Maxim, Thursday evening, May 19.

A brief service was held Monday afternoon at Spiller's Funeral Home for Norma Joyce, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tucker. Interment was at Norway Pine Grove cemetery. She was born May 5 and passed away two days later.

Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Cadigan (nee Pearl Harriman) spent the week end with Ella Harriman, calling on relatives and friends in company with Mrs. Jennie Willey and Mrs. Alice Burdett, who spent the time with Mrs. B. G. McIntire, all from Wakefield, Mass.

Clean-up Day was a success, Tuesday. The street department collected on every street and secured eight truck loads of rubbish for the public dump. The job was accomplished in five hours and cost $10, according to Road Commissioner Emerson.

Part of the new outfit for the fire alarm whistle unit has arrived. Installing will commence when all parts are here and when the expert is on hand to supervise the work. The change was expected to have been been made by May 1st.

Rough sea and cold weather effects trout fishing on Lake Pennesseewassee. Some of the lucky fishermen were E. D. Packard, who landed a two pound red spot; Albert Payne found one, Reg Dinsmore has the credit of two, three and one-half, and four and one-half pounds, and Charles Huff landed a three and one-half pounder.

OXFORD COUNTY LITERARY UNION

The annual meeting of the Oxford County Literary Union will be held in Norway, May 18, at American Legion Hall.

The Club Institute, which has become one of the most interesting features of the Union, will be conducted by Miss Anna C. Witherle, chairman of Club Institutes, taking for her topic, Club Programs, home talent or outside talent; should we have less program and more projects? Club members are urged to take an active part in the discussions.

Luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock in the dining room of the Congregational Church.

Afternoon Session Opens at 1.30 O'clock

State President of the Maine Federation, Mrs. Gertrude Chittenden; the Chairman of the Scholarship Fund, Mrs. Florence W. Danforth, and District Director No. 6, Mrs. Emma Howe, will deliver addresses.

Special music and readings have been arranged by the chairmen, Mrs. Lillian Force and Miss Mae Abbott.

Each Club president or her representative is expected to give a concise review of her club activities during the past year, stressing the ways each club has served the community.

TRASH AND TREASURE SALE

The Norway Woman's Club will hold its May Trash and Treasure Sale, Saturday, May 14, at the American Legion Hall, opening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Agnes McCready is chairman of the committee and some member of the committee will collect any and all articles.

Any housewives not members of the club, who have any articles they are willing to donate, it will be appreciated if they will call the committee. The proceeds will be used in civic work.

Mrs. Eva Kimball, who spent the winter with friends in Bath, is stopping for a few weeks at her home on Bridge street.

Mrs. Percy H. Nevers was given a surprise Monday evening, when she was presented with a beautiful maybasket from the Past Matrons Association of Oxford Chapter, Order Eastern Star. The basket was delivered by one of the members and was laden with an individual gift from each member, all daintily wrapped in yellow and white. It has been a year since Mrs. Nevers has been able to meet with the members, owing to serious eye trouble, and this surprise was planned at the meeting held the past week with Mrs. Alice Smith.

For the past few weeks, Fred Whitman has been doing things around his filing station at the falls. He has built an extension on the northerly side and put in a hydraulic lift made by the N. S. Air Compression Co. There are cement floors and walks to afford protection and give a finished look. Specialized lubrication is made with high pressure grease guns and about everything on hand to turn the trick on any make of car. Some things yet remain to be done, but he is well set for business on the corner, where once set the unfinished cobble stone monument.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for Mrs. A. L. F. Pike, from the home on Lower Main street. Rev. Christian Groezinger, pastor of the Congregational church officiated. The bearers were D. L. Joslin, Herman Gollub, Roland Nevers and Bert Melvin. The flowers were abundant. Interment took place at Norway Pine Grove Cemetery. Among the relatives from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bennett of Tilton, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Emery of Keene, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Peek of Dedham, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Malone of Portland.

MEMORIAL BLOSSOMS

In forty-three Government Hospitals and veterans' workshops, hundreds of soldiers, too badly shattered for heavier work, manufacture these memorial blossoms as their only means of self-support.

Last year they made over 12,000,000 for the forty-eight states and Alaska, Hawaii and Panama, actually sold 11,272,189, netting $214,814.55 profit, all of which went for the rehabilitation and child welfare program of the American Legion Auxiliary. The veterans received a penny for each poppy they made—a meager sum, to be sure; but a fortune to those who have families dependent upon them; to those who are ragged for clothes; to those who need pennies for cigarettes, writing paper, shaving "gear", stamps, and shoes.

Only those veterans make poppies who receive no compensation, or a very small one, from the Government. They begin manufacturing them in the winter, when the orders for poppies start trickling in, and they continue as the orders arrive, until the latter part of May. There are many long, idle days, though, when there are no orders and the eager hands twist restlessly in empty laps. Then the question is asked over and over: "When will we have more poppies to make?"

Many of these men are in the hospitals year after year. To see them making their poppies one year, then see them the next, seems as yesterday to us—as they occupy the same place as year before; but think what it means to them to be there all these long days. So:

"Forget them not! As years go by,
On our remembrance they rely.
They are the maimed Death did deny.
It's solace—crippled, blind, they try
To find on earth the peace they know
In Flanders' Fields."

VACATION SCHOOL OF RELIGION

At a meeting of the Joint Commitee on the Vacation School of Religion it was decided to hold the school during the second and third weeks of June. Sessions will begin on Monday, June 13, and will be held every week day until Friday, June 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Seabury of Yarmouth were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Curtis.

Rev. R. Stanley Povey, M. A., will speak on "the prohibition problem" at the Baptist church, Sunday evening, May 15, at 7 p. m. The public is invited.

The two oldest mothers in Norway were each presented a beautiful box of candy of Mothers' Day with the compliments of Stone's Drug Store. The recipients were Mrs. Mary Lebroke and Mrs. Rebecca T. Daboll, both are ninety-one years of age.

Announcements have been received of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper, Jr. at Rockland. Mrs. Sleeper will be remembered as Miss Doris Bradlee. The older son, "Rusty", is with his grandmother, Mrs. Rust Jackson, Millettville, for a month.

Mrs. C. E. Osgood, R. S. Osgood and Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Russell of Farmington, N. H., visited with Mr. and Mrs. William B. Smith and family at Dover, N. H., Sunday. Mrs. Osgood and Mr. Smith were schoolmates together and their fathers' families were close acquaintances for many years, at Meredith Center.

George H. Bennett moved his goods to Lewiston, Tuesday, and will live with his daughter, Mrs. Fred M. Davis and family. He has been a carriage painter and builder in Norway more than fifty years, but since automobiles have replaced carriages he has specialized in sign making. Four months ago he had influenza, which left him in poor health and unable to do hard work.

Rev. Conard B. Rheiner presented his professional program entitled "Mirthful Magical Mysteries" at the Universalist church vestry at Augusta, Friday evening. He gave many of his best tricks in sleight of hand and clever deceptions performed by famous magicians of the past and present generation. Mr. Rheiner is past master of the art and one of the best novelty entertainers.

Mrs. Sarah Babino, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Merton Rich, on Whitman street, observed her eighty-ninth birthday, Tuesday. She was born at St. Louis, N. B., and is of a family of twelve children, and she has three sisters and four brothers living. Her oldest sister is ninety-four years of age and lives in New Brunswick. She was married at the age of twenty-two and is the mother of ten children. She is in very good health and glad to see the summer coming.

The town clerk's office will remain open Saturdays until one o'clock in order to give those wanting licenses, etc., who cannot get to the office at other times, an opportunity to do business there. Town Clerk Dave Klain says, "Several have spoken to me this week, saying they cannot get their fishing licenses because the office is closed at the time they are out of work, so I have decided to keep my office open until one, on Saturdays, to give them a chance to get their licenses or do other business."

Why Not Set Clock on Daylight Time

Do Away With Self-Made Confusion

"Why don't you set the town clock ahead an hour?" was asked of selectman Arthur Robbins.

"Because I don't want to," was the prompt reply, "but I'm only one of three."

"Two kinds of time mixes up to no purpose and is needless."

"That may be so, but at the annual meeting the article to see if the town would adopt Daylight Saving was passed over," said Mr. Robbins, "and I take it the town don't want it."

"That may be so," added A. A. Towne, "the town didn't care to adopt any standard of time, but is willing to accept any time. A majority wants it, there is no law against so doing and it certainly would be in keeping with other towns and villages along the Grand Trunk to set the clock ahead. There is no law or reason for not so doing. That is the way I feel about it."

Many others think and feel the same way. It seems unreasonable to call a town meeting over such a small matter.

Set the clock ahead, or if this can't be done, instruct the person who winds it to forget to wind the striking part of it.

D. A. R. MEETING

A postponed meeting of the D. A. R. was held Wednesday evening with Mrs. Gertrude W. Libby, as hostess.

French Entertainment—Track Meet—Orchestra Competes—Latin Club Banquet

Last Friday afternoon the Junior French class was entertained by the Senior French class, assisted by a few Sophomore French students. The drama "La Parure" was fluently dramatized in the French tongue, the characters being played by Faye Lord, Lena Pulkinen and Robert Goodwin, whose work was very commendable. Between acts Miss Margaret Anderson sung "Au Clair de la Lune" and French poetry was recited by Miss Althea Millett, Ralph Akroyd and Robert Frost. At the conclusion of the entertainment all present joined in the singing of some French songs, assisted by Miss Anderson and Miss Michie, a "round" proving to be the most popular diversion. Spontaneous verses were also given by various members of the audience.

The freshmen girls, divided into two groups, "reds" and "blues", ran off a track meet, Tuesday during the regular gym period. High score went to Miss Frances Blaquiere and Miss Winifred Dunham, both of whom amassed thirteen points. Miss Marion Judkins was second, with seven points, third place was divided between Misses Holden, Logan, Millett, and Noyes, all of whom had six points. The meet was close, the 'blues' winning by a 46-41 score. Events consisted of dashes, throws, jumps, three legged race, potato race and a relay. Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

The law offices in Norway will be closed Saturday afternoon after this date. See ad. in another column.

Mayflowers are in their glory and cherry blossoms are just coming along. Frosty nights and cool winds from snow clad White Mountain range seem to delay the gentle effects of poetical spring.

Arthur Tucker informs the office that the McWain corn factory at East Waterford will not run this year. Therefore, contracts will not be made as usual for delivery of corn, next Fall.

From Maynard's Camps, Rockwood, Me. opposite Kineo:

"May 1—opening day 37 salmon and 61 trout taken. The largest, 5 1-2 pounds. Weather none too favorable."

Tent caterpillars are spinning webs on wild cherry shrubs. Looks like a big year for the breed. Every nest should be destroyed before the young crawlers develop and migrate from home. They are bad actors and strip all foliage on certain varieties of trees.

John Wight of South Paris reports good returns from his Intelligence Ad, calling attention to sharpening lawn mowers. He handles 200 and more machines during the season and gives the Advertiser credit for circulating the word around this trading district.

Arthur Harriman, manager of Rex and Strand Theatres, furnished free music on the street, Friday in the interest of a feature movie playing his houses. A trailer carrying circus style advertising and a loud speaker, provided an attractive street ballyhoo for "Tarzan, the Ape Man."

Donald McAllister, proprietor of the McAllister's Ice Cream Parlor, has a fad of collecting old coins. Some of his latest additions are a silver ten cent piece dated 1934, a silver three cent piece of 1868, long since out of circulation, and a twenty-five cent gold piece. The latter is very small, circular in shape and a mere "flake".

Carlton Dyer brought in a pair of glasses in a case, Wednesday morning, which he found in the water near the lake shore by Wassee Cottage. They have joined the company of many other articles of value or otherwise, which we have in our museum of lost and found articles, waiting to be claimed by the owners.

B. B. Judkins, guide and fly maker, of Rangeley, has been in town. He visited a while with Herman Judkins of South Paris, while waiting for the ice to leave Rangeley Lake. We were informed that the fly casting season promises good returns to the guides, who have found hard going during the winter. Bartholomew, for that is his name, said he had a number of parties engaged for fishing and expected plenty of guiding.

Frank L. Allen, caretaker at Round Pond, has the road put in good shape after mud time and has the garden ploughed and peas planted, has given the small "camp" on the knoll a coat of paint, built a new garden gate and getting things ready for summer. Wm. B. Walker and crew are painting the buildings, the same colors, white and green. Next week, Tim L. Heath and crew will tackle the boat house and set it up on a foundation. With the going out of the ice, the boat house went into the water.

Air mail greetings arrived Wednesday, May 11, from Roger Hutchins at Spokane, Wash. Letter was started May 8. "Hutch" is on the go day and night and writes his mileage has been 33,650 since Jan. 1, 1931. He reports three of the original tires are still rolling good and two contain the same air pumped in more than a year ago. Careful driving, a uniform pressure of thirty-five pounds and a weekly checking is the reason he advances for long service. This salesman has negotiated mountainous rocks, desert lands and every possible condition of travel from the country of Mexico to Alaska. "Hutch" plans to attend the Olympics and hints that the "Yanks' will be the pennant winners in the major baseball world.

With the very general adoption of Daylight Saving time throughout the state, there should also be a general setting of town clocks to conform with that time, in order to reduce the confusion as much as possible. Last year at this time, when Daylight Time went into effect, it was not possible legally, to change the town and city clocks, on account of a state law. The last legislature changed that law which went into effect in July, so that now it is possible for any city or town legally to adopt Daylight time and change their clocks to conform. Every public clock should be on the time locally adopted, thus informing the travelling public the time in vogue in that place. Don't confuse folks with the two sets of time.

I see by the Advertiser that Frank H. Wilberger has sold his house on Lovejoy street to Clyde Corey. When I knew Norway, it contained neither Wilberger not Corey nor Lovejoy street. The names of the men appear all right, but where is that street? —D. Cromett Clark.

During your days in Norway Mr. Wilberger was a boy living in North Lovell and Mr. Corey a boy in Gilead. Lovejoy street runs from Beal street to the east toward the railway tracks and just this side of the place formerly known as the McDaniels place. This follows the road bed of the spur track once a "feeder" of Horne's tannery. Thirty years ago this was a "lane" leading to the Lovejoy house in a locality known locally as the "Lovejoy Place".

MASON

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. MacKenzie, Gilead, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robinson, Locke Mills, were guests at J. A. MacKenzie's, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Stanley and party from South Paris spent the week end at Wm. MacKenzie's camp near the falls.

Myron Morrill is attending court at Rumford and boarding at home.

Members of both the boys' and girls' 4-H Clubs met at E. W. Rolfe's, Saturday. This meeting was observed as Mothers' Day and the mothers and grandmothers were invited. After the business meetings the girls served refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake, cookies and hot chocolate.

Allan MacKenzie of South Paris is spending the week at J. A. MacKenzie's.

LOCKE'S MILLS

Locke Mills played West Bethel and it was a close, hard founght game. The team work and hitting of the Locke's team in the last part of the game gave them margin enough to win, Locke's giving them a chance for revenge May 15. Locke Mills has baseball drills every Tuesday and Thursday nights. Any team wanting games should write to the manager, Dan Hinckley and dates can be arranged. The ball players all work in the Tebbets spool and novelty mill. Tex Smith has layed away his boxing gloves and is holding down second base for the team. Oxford County Farm County Agent

The Co-Workers 4-H Club at West Sumner cleared $8.20 from their supper held recently. The Club is to use this money for a camping trip late in the summer.

The club field day will be held at Papoose Pond again this year. Probably it will be sometime in August.

Girls who are in the Young Farmer class in club work, are offered a new clothing contest this year. Each girl is to exhibit seven articles of wearing apparel which she has made during the year. At the contest, to be held at South Paris on July 31, she will exhibit these articles and will be expected to demonstrate to the judges her ability to adjust and use a sewing machine. The winner will go to State Camp at Lewiston and compete with the winners from the other counties. The winner in this contest will receive a sewing machine.

The Co-Workers at West Sumner are selling holders at four cents each on a quilt which they have made. They have already sold 170. Gertrude Bartlett has sold fifteen and Lillia Millett has sold twenty-one.

Senior girls who have finished two years in sewing and are enrolled in sewing this year are eligible to compete in the Style Dress Revue to be held in South Paris, July 31. Elsie Abbott, Leona Lakeway, Bryant Pond; Mabelle Hersey, North Waterford; Frances Morrill, Mason, and Eleanor Heald, North Buckfield, have already sent in their names. Other girls who want to enter should send their names to the Farm Bureau Office before June 1.

The "Oxford Democrat" and the Oxford County Farm Bureau are offering a prize to the 4-H Club that does the best work during this year.

Miss Helen Spaulding, the Extension Service Clothing Specialist, from Orono, was with Mrs. Dora DeCoster on April 28 for a meeting on "Dressing the Children" which was held at Mexico. Nineteen invited mothers of young children attended, in addition to a good number of members.

Miss Spaulding gave suggestions for constructing garments easy for the young child to manage. Of considerable interest were the infant's garments that have been recently designed by the Bureau of Home Economics in Washington. These garments are cut on the bias and have no buttons. They are designed for comfort for the baby, ease at laundering, and dressing the baby.

Miss Edna Cobb, the Home Management specialist from Orono, was in Upton with Mrs. DeCoster on May 10, to hold the first of a series of meetings on home decoration. This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Will Whitney.

Pruning demonstrations were held recently on the farm of J. W. S. Colby, South Paris; H. H. Buck, Buckfield, and Fred Dunn, Norway. Those attending were interested particularly in seeing the new brush wax used in comparison with hand wax. The brush wax is cheaper and quicker to apply. Trees planted this spring on the Dunn and Colby farms were pruned.

Ten Oxford orchardists purchased 1,021 apple trees through the county apple tree pool. "Say, those are good trees, aren't they?" said Robert Schenk, Norway, when inspecting the shipment. "Yes," replied Fred Dunn, "particularly when you consider they only cost us 18 cents each." In addition to Mr. Dunn, the following orchardists purchased trees: L. E. Williams, Rumford; W. B. DeCoster, South Paris; Albert Beliveau, Rumford; Ralph Klucken and Elmer G. McAllister, North Lovell; A. L. Cole, Edgar Colby, J. W. S. Colby, South Paris, and Henry French, Rumford Center.

Of the 1,021 trees, 563 were McIntosh. Other varieties were as follows: Cortland, 364; Wealthy, 30; Golden Delicious, 25; Early McIntosh, 12; Yellow Transparent, 7.

All done with the exception of painting, Albert Beliveau, Rumford, has constructed a brooder house 58x24 feet that will accommodate 1500 chickens. It is an upper and lower berth arrangement, meaning two decks. Ten feet at the end of each deck will be used as a feed room. The remainder of the building is divided in two permanent sections 24x24. For brooding purposes, the 24x24 sections have been divided, thus making 4 compartments 12x24 on each floor. The basement affords abundant storage space for machinery.

Forty-one Oxford poultrymen are keeping records in an account book furnished by the Extension Service through the county agent. This is almost double the number keeping records last year. A complete summary of each record is furnished those completing the year.

Trees planted this spring on the Dunn and Colby farms were pruned.

The Oxford orchardists purchased 1,021 apple trees through the county apple tree fund. "Say, those are good trees, aren't they?" said Robert Schenk, Norway, when inspecting the shipment. A series of sixteen meetings on potato diseases will be held in July. How to detect disease and how to control it will be the chief points to discuss. Places and exact dates will be announced later.

Poultry clubs in Hiram, Norway and Mexico will conduct tours during June to visit other poultrymen and poultrywomen. These tours are planned because it is believed that an exchange of ideas and experiences is of mutual benefit. When arrangements have been completed, announcement will be made.

Three South Paris orchard men report an abundance of red mite eggs on fruit trees this spring. This indicates that an abundance of red mites will be on hand to damage foliage and fruit. So far, oil sprays have been found to be the most satisfactory control measure. This should be applied when buds have opened and when one-fourth to a half-inch of leaf is showing.

The period for making application for crop production loans has been extended in Maine to May 14 according to C. L. Cobb, Mgr. of the Washington Regional office. This will allow time for several applications coming late to be considered.

The permanent brooder house plan has been adopted by Merle Adams, East Sumner. Instead of having his several large portable range houses distributed over the range, he has hauled them all together and made one long, permanent house, using the several sections as separate pens. Much time and labor is saved by this method of handling chicks before they are put on the range. They report a good demand for chicks and eggs this spring.

Accounts and Budget Help to Solve Home Problems

On a chilly May evening, the children tucked up in bed, Mr. and Mrs. Farmer Homemaker were seated before the kitchen fire talking over the two new folks who had recently come to town; Mr. Accounts and Mrs. Budget, they were called. No little excitement, some suspicion, and much interest attended their arrival. They were being entertained down the road at Mr. and Mrs. Neighbor's this month and next month they were going over to the Four Corners. "Suppose they'd like to come here next," remarked Mr. Farmer Homemaker, "But I don't think I want em around. That Mr. Account seems a pleasant enough chap, but he's too exacting to suit me. Moreover, he would take up too much of my time."

"Exacting, yes, maybe a little, but Mrs. Neighbor says he's the fairest and the most truthful person she's ever known," answered Mrs. Homemaker, "and he doesnt take but very little of her time either. And as for Mrs. Budget, she's the most helpful person in the world. hy she's already averted two financial catastrophies in the family and if anyone can do that in these doubtful days, she must be quite wonderful."

"Well, now just tell me what you think these people can do for us. We've got just so much—or so little—to spend anyway, we won't spend any more than we've got, will we? It all goes, that's all I know," said Farmer Homemaker.

"Oh, Ive heard you say that before," retorted Mrs. Farmer Homemaker. "It isn't what we spend as much as what we get from or spending that really counts. I haven't felt quite satisfied with our spending this year. Perhaps Mr. Account and Mrs. Budget have come just in time to help us out."

"Yes. I can see you're set on having those folks down here, but I'm not convinced yet. Just tell me a few of the things they really did at Neighbors, now."

"All right, since I have the floor I'll do just that," laughed Mrs. Homemaker. "First of all they made it possible to send Sue to high school. Mr. Accounts showed where the money went, the food column seemed very high, all out of proportion to any other. Every day or so was an entry for meat, not cheap cuts of meat, either, but pretty expensive ones. Then Mrs. Budget in her kindly way said, 'You have so many eggs, why don't you substitute some of those prepared in different ways, for meat occasionally, or there's that lovely cottage cheese you make so well, or you could can meat to use during the summer.' To make a long story short, they took Mrs. Budget's advice and saved enough from the food column to send Sue to high school and, of course, she's delighted and the family is well fed, too."

"Yes, I suppose they would make me give up smoking,' interrupted Mr. Farmer Homemaker. "I wonder just how much I do spend for that pleasure during the year, anyhow. I haven't the ghost of an idea. I suppose Mr. Accounts could tell me, but I'm not sure that I want to know; it might be too embarassing, yet, I suppose if we want to run our household in a business-like way and be a modern family, we should know just such things as those and lots more besides. Perhaps those two can help us out on some of our problems. Might's well give 'em a try, so if you say so, call them up and invite them over. Maybe we'll like them so well, we will want to make permanent guests out of them. Tell me, though, will we have to spend a lot of time with them and make a fuss over them?"

"No, they will find their way around very easily and their habits are very simple," said Mrs. Homemaker as she went to the telephone to extend the invitation to Mr. Accounts and Mrs. Budget.

Dear Editor: Only a very small percentage of our tax money goes into Extension work. Look it up! Yet thousands of men and women have, through it, wakened from a humdrum attitude toward life. There is a peculiar value in rubbing shoulders with folks from other parts of the county and state, and a broadening that can't be estimated in tax money.

As for getting all of our information from magazines, many of us would give small heed to helps we find there if our interest and understanding were not quickened by Extension work. We'd stay in our own little rut and not even know it. Thanks to 4-H work farm folks need not complain that city children get organization advantages that farm children do not. And one of the best services of Extension work is its recreation program. Men and women are learning to sing, laugh and play again, and many are discovering talents in drama or developing musical or other artistic gifts.

Let those who criticize Extension work be broad enough to investigate these things with an open mind. Educational results, including those of the Extension Service, aren't all estimated in dollars and cents.

—Mrs. Extension Work Champion.

PAYS BETTER RETURNS THAN ANY OTHER TAX

Dear Editor: Is Extension work a joke? It is my honest opinion that farmers and farmers' wives get much more for their money out of the Extension Service than anything else for which they pay taxes. I'm a middle-aged woman, but I still believe there are a great many things I can learn—yes, and from specialists half my age. Since we began taking the home demonstration work my whole attitude toward my job has been changed. I now have a definite aim and get joy out of working toward it. Perhaps, after all, my job isn't as dull or unimportant as I once thought it. Best of all I've learned to play! I can see the connection between wholehearted recreation and wholehearted work. And what, pray, is more worthwhile than a happier attitude?

—Extension Enthusiast, Nebraska.

Rural Electrification Increased

In spite of depression, rural electrification gained nearly 8% in 1931, a total increase of 48,940 farms being served by public utilities companies. This makes a total of 698,786 farms being served by power lines at the end of 1931. The number at the end of 1923 was 177,500.

Important Announcement for Jersey Breeders

Your County Agent, D. H. Ridley, has received information from the American Jersey Cattle Club that provisions have been made that purebred Jerseys past two years of age may be registered, for a limited time, at a fee of $5.00 instead of $10.00. This temporary reduction was made by the national organization because of its appreciation of the present financial conditions of the country and in order that many worthy purebred Jerseys which have not been registered, may now be registered at this saving to their owners. According to Lewis W. Morley, Executive Secretary of the national organization, many breeders are taking advantage of this reduction.

Geo. L. Wentworth, Denmark, spends some of his spare moments pruning the lower limbs from a mixed pine and spruce plantation set several years ago. The work is done in the fall to prevent "bleeding" and a pair of small hand clippers used. Where the terminal shoot has been killed by the White Pine Weavil, these shoots are cut off and a promising limb selected for a new leader.

Aroostook potato growers have found that potatoes do best on a soil supplied with magnesium. B. W. Sanderson, East Waterford, and G. K. Hastings & Son, East Bethel, will grow demonstration plots this year to determine if there is a need for magnesium applications on their farms. Fertilizer containing magnesium will be tried out in comparison with fertilizer not containing this element.

"White Pine has three enemies" says R. N. Lowell, County Forestry Project Leader, who lives at Hiram. "They are Blister Rust, Weavil and man; and man is the worst." Lowell is setting 4,000 white pine this year, making about 15,000 or approximately 15 acres set out in the last several years. He uses three year transplants grown by himself from seed and has averaged 95% living trees on plantings. Wild seedling trees cannot be dug up and planted profitably or satisfactorily he reports. Mortality may range as high as 50% and those trees which live usually make poor growth and take much longer to get established.

June McAllister has been declared as judging champion of the Pine Tree 4-H Club of East Stoneham.

The Buckfield Bees and the Merry Workers of Buckfield are planning to give a Washington program and social at the Grange Hall on Monday evening, May 16. The clubs are to use the money to help pay Margaret Knightly's expenses to Washington.

Miss Margaret Knightly will be at the National 4-H Camp from June 15-21.

The 4-H Club at North Lovell is a new club this year, but we are glad to say that members carry on a very good business meeting. Mrs. Sarepta Pinfold is the leader.

State Grange Master at Casco Meeting

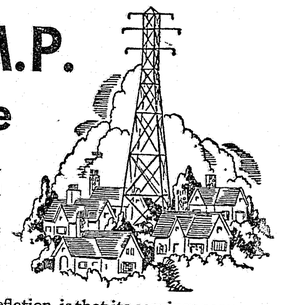
297 communities use C.M.P. Service



ONE of the many reasons why Central Maine Power Company's earnings have been steady through all conditions of boom and slump, war and peace, inflation and deflation, is that its earnings come, not from one or two big cities, but from 297 communities.
These communities depend for their business on varied industries and varied commerce. If some are in a slump, others are almost sure to be thriving.
Central Maine Power Company's earnings come from over 80,000 different customers—homes, industries, business establishments, factories, stores, offices and the like.
That is one reason dividends have always been paid out of EARNINGS—in hard times and good.

Paris H. S. 5; Berlin H. S. 4

A home run clout by Judd in the ninth smashed the deadlock and won the game for Paris at Berlin, N. H., Saturday afternoon. The game was a free hitting affair, but not timed to produce the number of scores expected under a slam and run program. Both teams played clean cut fielding with only three errors recorded.

Berlin opened with a strong attack good for three crossings and held the lead 4 to 2 until Paris slipped over a pair for a tie in the sixth. Judd's homer settled the argument as Berlin failed to work a runner beyond third base in their final frame. Summary:
